

Commonly used HTML tags

There are many more HTML tags than those shown in this table, although this should be more than enough to get you started.

Start tag	End tag	How it effects the page	Example
<h1>	</h1>	Creates a large heading	<h1>This is large heading</h1>
<h6>	</h6>	Creates a small heading	<h6>This is a small heading</h6>
		Creates a new paragraph	This will start a new paragraph
		Creates bold text	 This text will appear in bold
		Creates text in italics	 This text will appear in italics
<ul>	</ul>	Inserts a bullet point style list into your page	<ul> <li>Flour</li> <li>Sugar</li> <li>Eggs</li> </ul>

	No closing tag	Inserts an image into your page
		Creates a hyperlink in your page	BBC Website